PizzaLadi's Saturday Night

Saturday 24 September 2005

Starting at 5:00 pm

And Ending

Wherever You Go after 9:00 pm

Pre-Fixe $25.00 Per Person

(--Paid on Entry--)

Separate "Cash Bar"

JoAnn has again offered her magnificent restaurant in Wilton this year for a repeat of last year's successful PizzaLadi's Saturday Night. For those of you who can attend, this was quite an event in 2004. Not only is the food terrific, but who could beat the "COMPANY". We had well over 60 people there last year and according to some, there was activity well into the early hours of the next morning. So come one, come all. Bring someone close to you and then again, pick up someone that was once close to you.

Deceit

By Joyce Lanterna Tracksler
Tuesday 20 September 2005
Starting at 6:00 pm

Please join the Pizza Ladi and friends on Tuesday, September 20th, at 6:00 PM, to meet and listen to Joyce Tracksler. She will talk about her newest book, Deceit, and speak about the writing and publishing process. Deceit, is Joyce Tracksler's fifth published book. The novel has garnered two pre-publication prizes from The Arizona Author Literary Society and CWF Publications. Her other books have enjoyed great success, both commercially and by her peers with multiple awards and citations. Despite its tragic subject matter, she has managed to create lighthearted romantic mystery with an amusing cast of personable crooks.

"My funeral was held on a bleak Saturday morning, two months after the September 11th attack. I didn't have the nerve to attend the ceremony. Someone might have recognized me, even with my changed appearance. Instead, I bought a copy of The Fort Lee Times and read the obituary that my miserable, drunken excuse for a husband had written about me. He called me his "darling up in Heaven". It made me want to throw up."

On the morning of September 11th, Gianna St. Clare sits in a ladies room on the 89th floor of the North Tower. Her life is in shambles; her abusive marriage has crumbled and she's just been renounced by the man who was to have saved her. She's determined to end it all ...and then the plane crashed into the tower...

She scrambles out of the building, bruised, bleeding and confused. In her flight, she takes the identification of a dead co-worker and leaves her own identification behind, along with her insurmountable problems. Gianna becomes Vivian Ann Morrison, a new person, a new life, a chance to begin again. But Gianna soon discovers that Vivian Ann has a past even more horrific than her own.

Gianna's new identity plunges her into a world of murder, drug deals and terror. With every lie, she's enmeshed further into an abyss of deceit, duplicity and danger, learning the terrible lesson that you can run away from everyone but yourself.
